By Marlo Gottfurcht Longstreet

Rainbow Around The Son is a memoir by Marlo Gottfurcht Longstreet that tells the story of her son, David, who was diagnosed with a rare and fatal disease. The book is a moving and inspiring account of a mother's love for her child and her journey to find hope in the face of adversity.

David was born with a rare genetic disorder called Niemann-Pick disease, which affects the body's ability to metabolize cholesterol and other fats. As a result, David's organs and tissues slowly filled with fatty deposits, causing him to experience a variety of health problems, including liver failure, lung disease, and developmental delays.

Marlo and her husband, David, were devastated by their son's diagnosis. They knew that there was no cure for Niemann-Pick disease and that David's life would be short. But they were determined to make the most of the time they had together.

Rainbow Around The Son is a chronicle of David's life and the family's journey through grief and loss. Marlo writes about the challenges they faced, the joys they experienced, and the lessons they learned along the way. She also shares her thoughts on faith, hope, and the power of love.

Rainbow Around The Son is a beautifully written and deeply moving memoir. It is a story of love, loss, and hope that will stay with you long after you finish reading it.
